

"Momentum for Change"

Tenth Anniversary Conference
Cornell University April 8-10 1988

East Coast Asian Students Union (ECASU) is a network of Asian student organizations from more than 50 college campuses in the MidAtlantic and New England states. Each year ECASU sponsors a spring conference hosted by a member school. Over 500 students, professionals, and community activists will participate in this year's tenth anniversary conference hosted by Cornell. Entitled "Ten Years of ECASU: Momentum for Change", this year's conference will celebrate the struggles of Asian Americans, summarize ECASU's achievements over its first decade, and examine issues facing Asian Americans today to formulate concrete strategies for the future. Confirmed speakers include Fred Houn, founding member of ECASU and member of the Asian American Jazz Ensemble; Elizabeth Young, a longtime activist in NY and an associate of Interchange Consultants; Tisa Chang, founder and associate of the Pan Asian Repertory Theatre in NY; Ron Takaki, professor at UC Berkeley's Department of Ethnic Studies. Christine Choy and Renee Tajima will present their film "Who Killed Vincent Chin?" at the conference. Workshops will address Asian American Sexism, Asian Unity, Third World Chin?, and examine issues facing Asian Americans today to formulate concrete strategies for the future. Confirmed speakers include Fred Houn, founding member of ECASU and member of the Asian American Jazz Ensemble; Elizabeth Young, a longtime activist in NY and an associate of Interchange Consultants; Tisa Chang, founder and associate of the Pan Asian Repertory Theatre in NY; Ron Takaki, professor at UC Berkeley's Department of Ethnic Studies. Christine Choy and Renee Tajima will present their film "Who Killed Vincent Chin?" at the conference. Workshops will address Asian American Sexism, Asian Unity, Third World Chin?, and examine issues facing Asian Americans today to formulate concrete strategies for the future.

Join us in reflecting upon ECASU's first ten years as we build MOMENTUM FOR CHANGE.

Cornell contact

Elaine Cheon (607) 272-5446

Linda Kow (607) 253-0009

Anson Gong (607) 277-0553

Chartered Bus Info:

NY Linda Asato W (212) 280-2479
H (718) 965-4713

Boston Hei Wei Chan H (617) 864-8349

On Campus Contact: