

PERSPECTIVES ON DARTMOUTH

The Admissions Office has invited approximately 150 minority students of the Class of 1998 to experience Dartmouth from Saturday, April 23 - Tuesday, April 26. Perspectives Weekend will provide these students with the opportunity to partake in all aspects of life at Dartmouth--intellectual, cultural and social. In addition to visiting classes, the students will attend a mock drill session prepared especially for them. For a night of entertainment, "Cultural Expressions" will feature a variety of performances, ranging from song and dance to poetry readings. They will also have plenty of time to mingle with each other and current undergraduates. Dartmouth students hope to enlighten the prospectives about life in our community through the multicultural and affinity pan-

Either by hosting, performing in "Cultural Expressions" or just talking and sharing information with a prospective, you can influence a student's decision to attend Dartmouth. With everyone's participation, this can truly be the most successful Perspectives Weekend ever. If you are interested in hosting please blitz Victoria Martínez '97. If you have any questions, contact Angela Peña '97 or Mireya García '95.
